10th Anniversary 2009-2019

Annual Report 2018-2019
OneSky teaches communities and caregivers to provide nurturing responsive care and early education that unlocks the potential hidden in our world’s most vulnerable children.
Dear Friends,

On this the celebration of our 10th Anniversary Year, it is a pleasure to present the 2018-19 Annual Report on behalf of Half the Sky Foundation Australia now trading as OneSky Australia.

We thank our ever-generous community of members, donors, patrons, sponsors, volunteers and staff for another year of tremendous support and fundraising. Through such generosity particularly through our Gala Fundraising Dinner in Melbourne in 2018, we raised over $930,000 for orphaned, abandoned and disadvantaged children and their caregiving communities in China.

While this year we sent more overseas aid to projects in China than ever before, we are also more confident than ever that our efforts to help build local skills and capacity in the children’s welfare sector in China are paying off for the benefit of ever more children.

As part of the global OneSky network, our Chinese sister charity, Chunhui Children’s Foundation, is now raising from the local community in China the vast majority of funds necessary to maintain and grow OneSky-inspired children’s programs across the country. This is a truly remarkable outcome and a turning point after 20 years of international effort among the global OneSky network and at the 10th anniversary mark for OneSky Australia.

While life-changing programs for children and ongoing development in the children’s welfare sector remains vital, especially as poverty and abandonment still impact vast numbers in remote parts of the country, it is apparent that long-term goals for our China work - that sustainability and expansion of welfare programs for children should ultimately rest in local hands – may very soon be realised.

This is an extraordinary milestone and could not have been reached without the incredible generosity of all our supporters in the Australian community including friends in the Chinese Australian community and of course the stellar efforts of our colleagues, partners and friends in the global OneSky network and Chunhui in China over the past 10 years.

We look forward to sharing more about plans for the future of OneSky Australia following the AGM in November, 2019 and a special meeting of members to be held in March, 2020.

With gratitude and hope for all children,

The year in brief...

TRADING AS ONESKY AUSTRALIA

This year, to align more closely with our partners in the global OneSky for all children charity network, Half the Sky Australia began trading as OneSky for All Children Australia Foundation or OneSky Australia (OSA). OSA continued its focus through the year on its development and aid projects with in-country partners in China, while the global network continued to expand its focus to include projects for children in need in Vietnam, Mongolia and Hong Kong.

FINANCIAL RESULTS

Although below last year’s extraordinary result we had a solid year in fundraising with total income of $934,948. The biggest contributor was the annual Melbourne Gala in September, 2018, our major fundraising event for the year. Donations were received from private individuals and family foundations as well as sponsorships from national and international corporate and business supporters.

On the expenditure side, we substantially exceeded all previous years in terms of direct support for our projects in China, investing a record $1.5M from current income and retained earnings of $984K from 2018. As a result, we are reporting a current year loss of $888K and a reduction in retained earnings to $95K.

CHINA PROJECTS

OneSky Australia as part of the global OneSky network undertakes projects in China with in-country project partners, the US OneSky entity and Chinese sister charity, Chunhui Children’s Foundation, and their national and local government partners in China.

From January, 2017 to December, 2018, OSA has been a major collaborative partner in OneSky’s ‘National Training’ effort, an extension of the landmark ‘Rainbow Training’ partnership between OneSky and the Chinese government (formally implemented 2011-16) to provide professional training and skills development to orphanage administrators and caregivers in welfare institutions across China. Through its involvement in this ambitious training project OSA has extended its impact to hundreds of orphanages, caregivers, and ultimately many thousands of orphaned children across China.

From January 2019, OSA also extended its support to model OneSky children’s programs in orphanages in Guizhou province, helping extend work at the provincial model site at Guiyang as well as establish a new Seed site for orphaned children at the Tongren children’s welfare institution where at least 73 infants and children previously missing out on vital nurturing care are now enrolled in life-changing programs as a result.

For the first time in 2019 OSA has also become a partner with OneSky and Chunhui at Village Projects for so called economic orphans. China’s changing economic landscape has caused millions of young children to be left behind in poor rural and remote villages while parents move away to seek work in growing cities. Often very young children are left behind with elderly grandparents and without access to community and early childhood development support.

During the year OSA also continued its support through ‘legacy’ funding for OneSky model children’s centres previously established at orphanages in Hunan province (where we began projects in 2011) and Yunnan province (since 2014).

Helped provide Rainbow Training to 729 caregivers, impacting 4,059 orphaned and at-risk children.

Invested over $1.5M in direct support for our projects in China.

Continued ‘legacy’ support for model children’s centres at Changsha and Kunming.

IMPACT HIGHLIGHTS IN FY2019
CUMULATIVE IMPACT 10 YEARS
MAY, 2009 TO NOVEMBER, 2019

Raised over $6.5M in gross revenue and delivered almost $5M in benevolent and development aid to China.

Over 10 years, we’ve helped grow and support children’s programs across China helping train 17,483 caregivers and impacting 87,738 children.

In 2011, we began our first major project to help create a new model children’s centre at the Changsha Children’s Welfare Institution in Hunan province. Model centres enrich the lives of orphaned children through best practice programs of nurturing, responsive care and early education. Training and professional development is provided to caregivers and teachers to transform children’s lives. Since 2011, 39 caregivers trained and 389 children directly impacted.

In 2014, we funded our second major project, a new model children’s centre at Kunming in Yunnan province. 59 caregivers trained and approximately 490 children directly impacted in the four model children’s programs since 2014.

With Changsha and Kunming model centres also serving as provincial OneSky Rainbow Training/ National Training hubs, over 2,500 trainees from over 100 welfare institutions across Hunan and Yunnan provinces have also received professional training in early childhood development and support to implement OneSky-inspired programs of their own.

During 2017-2018, to extend Rainbow Training efforts, we became a major partner in OneSky’s National Training Plan to continue professional training and skills development for orphanage administrators and caregivers across all of China. To date 16,775 caregivers have been trained, impacting 83,565 children in their care.

In 2016, we expanded our direct support to two smaller Seed sites, Changde & Xiangtan, in Hunan province, to help them start OneSky programs of their own. These sites received financial and professional assistance for three years and have been operating ever since under local management and support. 58 caregivers trained and approximately 250 children directly impacted.

In 2019, we again extended direct support to two model sites at orphanages in Guizhou province and supported new Village projects for left behind children, benefiting an additional 3,049 children and 610 caregivers.

Jenny and Richard Bowen adopted their daughter, Maya, a toddler from a welfare institution in southern China, and received a first-hand look at the trauma of early neglect and institutionalization. Their new daughter suffered from physical and cognitive developmental delays, but after just one year of love, nurture, and individualized attention, Maya was transformed.

Half the Sky Foundation, named for the Chinese adage, “Women hold up half the sky,” was founded in 2000 to train staff in China’s social welfare institutions and to provide resources to orphanages and preschools for orphaned children. (Jenny, the foundation became known as OneSky for all children.) For the Children. In 2003, Half the Sky partnered with OneSky to provide education in the trauma of early neglect and institutionalization for children whose physical and developmental challenges made them unlikely to be adopted. More than 100 children enrolled in 4 model children’s programs at Changsha and it became a provincial training base for caregivers and orphans throughout Hunan province under the Rainbow Program. Visits to our projects in China became ongoing, almost every year.

We believe that all children have unlimited promise, no matter their beginnings, their circumstances, or their challenges. We believe it is every child’s birthright to have full access to nurturing care and early education, especially in the formative years. No child should struggle alone.

For two decades now, the global OneSky network has developed and offered proven Early Childhood Care and Education (ECCE) strategies to help at-risk children grow and thrive. We have refined a combination of loving care and training expertise that succeeds. Our work is dedicated to nurturing the smallest and most vulnerable human beings among us, to assure them that someone cares, and to offer them the help they need to develop and flourish.

The OneSky Approach is focused on human beings, and relies on skilled and loving human interaction between children and those who care for them.

Four elements form the foundation of our work:

• Responsive care. Caregivers are attuned to children’s cognitive and emotional needs, observing them carefully and creating loving attachment. As children learn to trust, they maximize their chances of optimal development and well-being.

• Trained caregivers. OneSky emphasizes the critical need of all children to have the consistent presence of a loving adult in their lives. Professional training in responsive care and best practices for teachers and caregivers is offered in many settings and at many levels, adapted to different cultures and needs. Our training stresses the importance of relationships. The goal is to help neglected children reach their full potential, while also transforming the lives of the adults who care for them.

• A nurturing and safe environment. Nurseries and classrooms are designed to be safe, soothing and inviting, making children feel comfortable, engaged and at home. Everything in the environment is aimed at benefitting the children—from child friendly surroundings; to caregivers and teachers who form close, loving relationships; to the use of materials and toys that are stimulating and developmentally appropriate.

• Supportive and collaborative partnerships. At all levels, in each place we work, cooperative relationships with governments, businesses and individuals allow us to expand our programs to reach as many children as possible. The ultimate aim is to transform social systems so that vulnerable children everywhere get the love, attention, and support they need.

The OneSky Approach has proven effective and scalable. By providing ongoing training, guidance and support, we build local capacity and enable our partners to adjust the programs to reach and help as many children as possible. The OneSky Approach is adaptable and can succeed wherever young children face adversity, especially in low-resource settings.

It is OneSky’s deep conviction that resources spent on human beings—on neglected children and the adults dedicated to caring for them—is an investment in everybody’s future. In changing young lives for the better, we have a chance to create a better world.
OneSky’s first programs began in the orphanages of China, transforming young lives with infant nurture and early learning programs designed especially for institutionalized children. The OneSky Approach proved so effective that China now uses it as the standard of care for children in all its social welfare institutions.

To date, OneSky has reached 104 institutions in all of Mainland China’s 31 provinces. Currently, in conjunction with Chinese government partners, OneSky is set to train every child welfare worker in the nation in its proven methods, and thus help institutionalized children reach their full potential.

OneSky’s work for orphaned children includes:

Infant Nurture

The OneSky emphasis on responsive care is designed to maximize the gains children make in the formative earliest years of life. Local community women are trained to provide this important nurture and developmental expertise. Each woman cares for three or four babies that she regards as her own.

Preschool

OneSky’s early childhood educators use a unique and progressive curriculum that fosters cognitive, physical, language and social-emotional development. Children are helped to develop a healthy sense of self, so often missing in institutionalized children.

Loving Families

With the support of OneSky, married couples who have already raised a family provide a stable, caring family home, parenting children whose physical, emotional or cognitive challenges may preclude their adoption.
In OneSky’s Loving Families Program, married couples devote themselves to three to five children with special needs, creating warm supportive new families, where the children live in a home with a mom and a dad. Sometimes the father is still working, so when there’s just one person caring for the children all day, it’s almost always the mother. That’s why OneSky’s family mentor was surprised—and a little skeptical—when a husband, Yasheng, applied to be a stay-at-home dad. Yasheng, who had been working full-time as a carpenter, and his wife, Lanjuan, who was at the time a full-time mom, were already doing a wonderful job as foster parents for four children with special needs. But if Yasheng also stayed home as a full-time parent, that would allow adding four more special-needs children to the family.

“My first thought was eight children—impossible!” recalls OneSky’s family mentor. She admits she was slipping into a stereotype, but she wasn’t sure that Yasheng, or any male, had the temperament for round-the-clock parenting. "People who take this job have to have tons of patience, not only because children are demanding,” she said, “but also because it is even more difficult parenting children with special needs.”

Nevertheless, OneSky staff decided to take a chance on the eager dad-to-be. And it worked! Yasheng has proven to be a supportive, inventive and fun-loving foster father. Now he and his wife are both fulltime parents to seven girls and one boy, ranging in age from 2 to 12, whose special needs include cerebral palsy, congenital heart disease and Down syndrome. Yasheng says his guiding principle—underscored by OneSky’s foster parent training—is, “Children should be treated with kindness from the bottom of our hearts.” OneSky could not be prouder of this patient and devoted stay-at-home dad!

In 2015, OneSky began work in the troubled rural villages of China. Staggering numbers of children—including 2.5 million 5 years old and younger—had been left behind as parents from impoverished areas went off to work in distant cities. The children, in the care of grandparents and other relatives who struggled just to feed them, became China’s “economic orphans.” The grandparents, too, were suffering, and community life in the villages was falling apart.

OneSky began offering early learning and individual help to village children, support and training in responsive care for the grandparents and other caregivers, as well as community-building activities. Local women, who might otherwise have left for city jobs, were trained and employed as teachers and family mentors. That meant they could remain in the village and work with the children—helping poor, rural communities become viable again.

OneSky’s work in China’s villages includes:

PRESCHOOL
A child-centered curriculum is offered to children aged 3 to 6, regardless of ability to pay. The program emphasizes responsive care, aimed at improving cognitive and social-emotional development, and preparation for primary school.

FAMILY SKILLS
Primary caregivers, mostly grandparents, are offered training in responsive care, attachment and bonding, brain development and stimulation, and communications skills, to help the children in their care. Training takes place at the OneSky Family Center, as well as during weekly home visits.

COMMUNITY ENGAGEMENT
To give struggling grandparents respite, and to encourage other village residents to help out and care for the children, OneSky holds trainer-facilitated village gatherings. Community activities, including gardening and other projects, are encouraged and supported, to get villagers working together again.
When 5-year-old Xiaoming first joined OneSky’s village preschool, he kept to himself. While the other children in class talked and giggled, he sat alone, always quiet and often sleepy. No wonder. Not only was Xiaoming small for his age and withdrawn, he was carrying adult responsibilities on his thin shoulders.

When he was still a baby, Xiaoming’s mother had abandoned the family because of their poor financial situation. Since then, his grandmother had cared for him. The little boy’s dad was rarely at home, working outside the village to support the family.

At first, Xiaoming’s grandmother planned to raise some chickens and ducks to supplement the family’s meager income, but her poor health ruled that out. Having suffered from severe rheumatic disease for almost three decades, her limbs were deformed and it was very difficult for her to walk, or dress herself. She could barely get out of bed, let alone care for a flock.

Despite his small stature and young age, Xiaoming volunteered to step in for his grandmother. Each day after school, he fed the chickens and ducks and filled their water dishes. He also helped his grandmother take her medicine, get dressed and undressed, and he even emptied her bed pan. The little boy’s constant refrain to his grandmother was, “Grandma, please relax. I will take care of you.”

When Xiaoming’s teacher, Cao Yan, learned of his family situation, she paid extra attention to him, using all she had learned in her OneSky training to help him become more comfortable. The big breakthrough came when Cao Yan noticed one day that Xiaoming was happily engaged, painting a picture. So she encouraged him, pleased to see how talented he was and how happy he was with a paint brush in his hand.

Xiaoming still cares for his ailing grandmother, but now he’s also enjoying his art work and playing with new friends. Although the boy’s father is still busy farming outside the village most of the time, when he has visited, he has been amazed and deeply touched by his son’s progress. He always makes a point of thanking his son’s teachers for their good work and care. And, of course, Xiaoming’s grandmother is delighted that he is doing well at school. “I am so grateful to my grandson’s teachers,” she says.
A heartfelt thank you from OneSky Australia ….

We know that the most effective way to change young children’s lives is to provide them with love and nurturing care at the earliest opportunity. We also know that real and lasting transformation is possible when communities are empowered to change their own circumstances.

We thank our generous friends and supporters in the Australian business and wider community for helping bring our vision to life. Together with our partners in China we have spread love, happiness and hope to children in need and strengthened their communities.

(c) Principal activities

The principal activities of Half the Sky Foundation Australia Limited (now trading as OneSky For All Children Foundation Australia / OneSky Australia) during the financial year were to continue awareness-raising and fundraising activities in Australia and support for cooperative overseas aid and development projects in China, under US Half the Sky Foundation/OneSky global network including model children’s centres and programs in Hunan, Yunnan and Guizhou provinces, and a ‘National Caregiver Training’ project for welfare workers across China.

Short-term and long-term objectives

HTSA’s short-term objectives have been to support:

Model OneSky infant nurture, preschool and youth mentoring programs at welfare institutions to directly benefit orphaned and disadvantaged children. Programs develop emotional, social and intellectual wellbeing and provide early education and life skills vital for successful transition from institutional life into community schools, adoptive families and society. Programs also focus on the developmental challenges facing children with special needs;

Model OneSky foster family programs within welfare institutions for the nurture, education and development of children with special needs (typically precluded from adoption);

Model OneSky infant nurture, preschool and youth mentoring programs and training in China with the US Half the Sky Foundation/OneSky global network including HTSA’s Chinese sister charity, Chunhui Networks.

HTSA’s long-term objectives have been to:

Support multiple model OneSky centres and programs, training bases and the development of training systems, mentoring relationships and training pathways within the children’s welfare sector to facilitate and support widespread and sustainable adoption of best practice models and methods of care by officials, administrators, teachers and caregivers for the long-term benefit of orphaned, at-risk and disadvantaged children including “left behind” children in rural villages impacted by poverty.

Ultimately hand over responsibility for operation and support of model centres and programs to local authorities, communities and staff to operate as their own for the long-term sustainability and expansion of best practice programs and methods of care.

Eventually transition from providing programs directly to children to a focus on training, coaching and mentoring within the children’s welfare system; and Expand support and funding in Australia among the wider community, corporate and philanthropic sectors.

Strategies

To achieve its stated objectives, HTSA has adopted the following strategies:

A strategic and practical cooperative partnership between HTSA and the US Half the Sky Foundation, now known as ‘OneSky’, and its government and non-government partners at national, provincial and local levels in China, to implement objectives in China. Local knowledge, networks, permissions and partnerships with stakeholders in China, especially government authorities, have been / are critical ongoing to impact and success.

Development and implementation of joint projects (2011 – ongoing) for the creation and operation of model Half the Sky/OneSky model Children’s centres and training hubs in Hunan, Yunnan and Guizhou provinces, as well as a nationwide training project since 2017 impacting almost every province across the country.

Through the joint projects, development of local welfare sector community networks in China including OneSky’s Chinese sister charity, Chunhui Children’s Foundation, local Children’s Welfare Institutions and provincial stakeholders, critical for the long term local sustainability and expansion of programs and training.

In our opinion the financial report of Half the Sky Foundation Australia Ltd has been prepared in accordance with Division 60 of the Australian Charities and Not-for-Profits Commission Act 2012 (ACNC Act), including:
• giving a true and fair view of the company’s financial position as at 30 June 2019 and of its financial performance for the year then ended;

We conducted our audit in accordance with Australian Auditing Standards.

Basis for opinion
We have audited the financial report of Half the Sky Foundation Australia Ltd, in accordance with the Charitable Fundraising Act 1991 and the Charities and Not-for-profits Commission Regulation 2013.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Responsibilities of Directors for the Financial Report
The directors of the company are responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial report in accordance with Australian Accounting Standards and the ACNC Act, and for such internal control as the directors determine is necessary to enable the preparation of the financial report that is free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial report, directors are responsible for assessing the company’s ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the directors either intend to liquidate the company or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so. The directors are responsible for overseeing the company’s financial reporting process.

Auditor’s Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Report
Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial report as a whole is free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor’s report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with the Australian Auditing Standards will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of the financial report.

As part of an audit in accordance with Australian Auditing Standards, we exercise professional judgement and maintain professional scepticism throughout the audit. We also:
• Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial report, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
• Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to determine the scope of audit procedures to be performed and the nature, timing and extent of audit testing.
• Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the directors.
• Conclude on the appropriateness of directors’ use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the company’s ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor’s report to the related disclosures in the financial report or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor’s report. However, future events or conditions may cause the company to cease to continue as a going concern.

We evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial report, including the disclosures, and whether the financial report represents the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

We communicate with the directors regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.
